Subscription: One year, $3; one month, 25 cts.; single copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1904

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,175

When you buy cloth, you pay for it by the yard. When you buy sugar, you pay for it by the pound. When you buy advertising, you pay for it by the 1000 circulation.

When you buy advertising space in Barre, you get the lowest rates per 1000 circulation and the best returns from the Daily Times. Its advertising rates per 1000 circulation are but two-thirds what they are elsewhere in Barre.

Are you saving that one-third by advertising in the Times?

Bell and DeBoer have carried their own towns. Roxbury is yet to be heard from.

The people are still waiting to hear the fall of Fort Arthur, but the third is yet to be heard.

Eight more delegates for Joseph A. DeBoer of Montpelier for governor. No other man was mentioned at the caucus last evening.

With a Republican city committee elected and the caucus successfully disposed of, the Republican party in this city is well on the road to an understanding.

Barre's city delegation to the district convention was a fortunate or an unfortunate selection, according to the individual viewpoint. The delegates are eight lawyers.

Three weeks from today and we shall know almost beyond question who will be governor of the state of Vermont for a period of two years. It is a short time in which to work up the usual amount of agitation.

HOPING FOR BETTER THINGS.

Barre people are indignant because the fire insurance rates in that city have been raised from 25 to 300 per cent, according to the nature of the buildings. Insurance rates are high in Vermont but it is probably true that they are no higher than in necessary in order that the companies may do business without loss. Fire insurance is less profitable than it formerly was, notwithstanding the increase in the charges.

—Butland News.

This bit of long-range philosophy from our Butland contemporary might cause a smile among the merchants and property owners on Main street in Barre were they not busy with their troubles. To see one's insurance rates soar 300 per cent at one fell swoop is not, however, conducive to the tickling of one's sense of humor. On the contrary it is a serious situation that those merchants and property holders have to face today. The increase of the rates of insurance has come about under conditions which are really no different than they have been for years past, and in spite of the fact that the fire fighting equipment of the city has been raised to a high standard.

Many of the structures on Main street are of wood and in the insurance sense may be considered hard on some property owners have been slovenly and careless in the care of their buildings while the city council has been inexcusably lax in the enforcement of ordinances. But the immediate cause of the increase is traceable to the "fire bug" who followed his despicable avocation most assiduously several months ago. He is responsible directly for the hardship imposed on the property owners of this city, albeit the actual damage done by him was comparatively small. But the city is constantly bettering its fire fighting apparatus, the city council promises to be less lax and, if he mistake not, those careless owners will remedy their faults so far as possible, which leads us to believe that the present excessive insurance rates are only temporary.

CASTLE PARK THEATRE.

The manager of the Glenns Falls, N. Y., opera house says the Forni Elwyn Co. put on the best show he has had there for eight years. The same show will appear at the Castle Park theatre all next week, opening with "The Cross Roads of Crime." The vaudeville acts are of the best that money can obtain including that headline act Norton & Russell as the Dago and the Monk, Yodder & Belmont, acrobats, May Fuller, the dancing doll, Jacob Reagan with the irresistible laugh and George A. Hickey's moving pictures and illustrated songs, etc.

A Barre Woman Asks

"Have you a floor paint that will last two weeks?" Yes, we have Devore's; it has a beautiful gloss and will wear two years if properly applied. Reynolds & Son.

A sale of dimitas at Perry's, regular 30c and 12c goods, on Saturday at only 7c per yard.

"The spirit of wrath—and the words—lie in the air."—Paul's head Wilson.

The New Spring Trousers will hit you right where you live. No man (except a Sage or a Gage) can afford to buy cheap Trousers—it's too expensive. "Pants" can be bought for $2.00 but they insult your legs and your purse.

Here $3.00 to $6.00 will give your legs the right standing in the world.

The new crash and flannel Trousers, $1.00 to $4.00 per pair.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Among yesterday's graduates from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston, were Don L. Galosha of South Royalton, and Nat M. Johnson of Albany.

L. H. Lewis of Hyde Park, editor and publisher of The News and Citizen, has purchased of Mrs. S. F. Brush, The Cambridge Transcript and office material, taking possession June 6. Charles W. LaBounty, former manager for Mrs. Brush, will take charge of the office there for Mr. Lewis for awhile. It is expected that after a few weeks the paper will be removed to Morrisville for publication.

The annual meeting of the Vermont Association of Life Underwriters will be held on the steamer Chateaugay, leaving Burlington Wednesday, June 16. The business session will be held in the dining hall immediately after dinner. It is expected that H. H. Ward, president of the National association, will give an address. S. S. Ballard of Montpelier, will give a report of the last annual meeting of the national association, as he was a delegate to that session.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Wise.

"You say the principal of that school is an unusually wise man?"
"Yes. He couldn't help being. Think of the graduation essays he has listened to from year to year."—Detroit Free Press.

Gnome Matter.

There was once a dear little gnome who rode from his home on Cape Nome. Said a lady, "My dear."
"Do you know why you're here?"
He looked up and answered, "Why, no!"

And let him on der head.
For hydrophobia I don't gift
Yen little dog is dead.
—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

He Always Knows It.

"Do you ever feel as though there was nothing in life for you?"
"No. Life's always full of work for me, and they never let me forget it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Their Proper Fate.

Little drops of water,
Little grains of sand,
Make the stocks that oughter
Be completely banned.
—Philadelphia Press.

The Reason.

"Why do they call them problem plays?"
"Because you always have to guess at what they are all about."—New York Evening Journal.

Easily Enough.

Cashier—I am very sorry, madam, but I cannot cash this check unless you are identified.
Mrs. Youngthing (confidentially)—Oh, it that is all, you can identify me by the mole under my lip!

HAS THEM ALL OUTCLASSED.

The Great Walter L. Main 1904 Circus Is Unequaled.

What is there new about a circus? How many times does one hear this question discussed upon the approach of a show's coming. Many there are who still adhere to the old belief "there is nothing new under the sun." To those sharing the latter opinion, Walter L. Main's World's Exposition exemplifies the erroneousness of such convictions. This big amusement enterprise is almost entirely made up of novelties marvelous, rare and thrilling achievements with little regard as to cost of production. It has been conceded by all showmen for several years that the Main Circus, in point of beautiful horses, rare and costly animals, has not a competitor in the amusement field, and the richness of the entire institution's exhibition this year places it in a class all by itself for up-to-date modernness.

Mr. Main is the first big circus owner to provide two ticket wagons on the show grounds (open at 1 and 7 P. M.) for the sale of reserved and general admission tickets, also placing on sale admission and reserved seat tickets at Baskett's Book Store, 33 State street, Montpelier, from 9 A. M. on the morning of the exhibition, for the convenience of the public. Another modern idea is having all the show's canvas both sun and water-proof. In arranging the vast programme of entertainment, the delights of the little children have not been left out of sight. Take it all in all, if the reader visits but one circus a year, the Main enterprise presents the best, largest and cleanest amusement possible, and this show should receive his patronage at Montpelier, Monday, June 13th.

SEEKS TO INDICT ACTRESS.

Jerome Calls Nan Patterson's Relatives Before Grand Jury.

New York, June 8.—District Attorney Jerome is seeking to have Nan Patterson, the actress, indicted by the grand jury for perjury in the first degree to head off her liberation under the habeas corpus proceedings before Supreme Court Justice Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Morgan Smith, the latter Nan Patterson's sister, were brought from the St. Paul hotel to the criminal courts building on grand jury subpoenas. J. Morgan Smith was called into the grand jury room the minute the jury was in session. He was questioned closely concerning the revolver with which Caesar Young was killed.

The revolver was purchased in this city in 1898. Smith was in the city at that time. Young was in San Francisco.

The World publishes an interview with a man named Algeron C. Meyer, who alleges that he was an eyewitness of the suicide of Caesar Young. It is expected that his testimony will exonerate Nan Patterson.

Dowie Converts From Australia.

Victoria, B. C., June 8.—The steamer Manuka has arrived from Australia, bringing 418 passengers, including some leading Australians, on their way to St. Louis. In spite of the bad reception accorded John Alexander Dowie in Australian cities, he met with some success, as sixty-two recently converted Zionists arrived on the Manuka from South Australia bound for Zion City.

Fourth Class Postmasters.

Washington, June 8.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: Pennsylvania—St. Thomas, Van T. Graham.
New York—Montauk, L. M. Case; Poughkeepsie, Henry B. Carr; Wheeling, Mrs. Annie Clark.
